Village able lower tax levy

by GLORIA DAVIS Lakeland Newspaper

Speaking for the rest of the Antioch Village Board, Trustee Don Amundsen, head of the village finance committee, said "It's time to return some of the money to the people," referring to the fact that the board could a lower the tax levy for the 1989 property tax bills.

In a unanimous vote, the board approved the proposal to lower the tax levy to $755,737 compared to last year's levy of $799,900.

Leading to that move was the informa-tion that the Village of Antioch's assessed valuation had risen from $48 million in 1988 to $53,000 in 1989 and the fact that the village could be expecting $100,000 in state income tax rebates for the next Amundsen said he figured he would save about $40 on next year's property tax bill.

A public hearing on the proposed levy will be held at 7 p.m., on Monday, Dec. 4, before the regular bi-monthly board meeting, at the village hall.

Mayor Robert Wilton told the board that

Plan 1989 'Hometown Christmas'

Mary Kay Tolnton, representing the Antioch Chamber of Commerce retail committee, told the village board that the theme for Christmas in Antioch this year had been set at "Antioch-Hometown Christmas."

Besides the usual caroling and decorations, Tointon asked the board for permission for the Chamber to conduct one-half hour, chaperoned hayrides on side streets from 6 to 9 p.m. on Pfidays and from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturdays before Christmas starting with the date of the Christmas parade on Nov.

With a codicil that insurance waivers be signed, the board approved the hayrides and possible carriage rides on low speed

Trustee Larry Hanson suggested that the routes be set on streets that have holiday decorations.

12-inch warning lights had been installed by the Wis. Central Railroad at the crossing on Rte. 173 where three Antioch High School students were killed a few weeks

He added that the III. Dept. of Transportation was in the process of installing rumble strips in the highway approaching the crossing from both the east and west.

A public hearing concerning the installation of the proposed crossing gates at the site is set for 1 p.m., on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at the village hall.

A discussion was held on the Antioch Area Youth and Family Assessment Center which will be using a room in the Antioch Police station one night a week.
It is set to handle referrals of youths from 16 to 25 years of age, mostly for drug and alcohol abuse.

Beepers will have help available through doctors and the Antioch Police Dept. anytime of the day or night.

Trustee Mabel Lou Weber brought up a concern about the village's possible liability in connection with the center.

The board voted to have a liability waiver signed by those involved in the

In other business, the board allowed Larry Fales' request that he be able to clean up and fill a heretofore messy triangle of land at the intersection of Hillside Dr. and Rtc. 59.

After a long discussion, the board voted to allow the building of a five-unit apartment building on land on Drom Ct. owned by Allan Kelly who wants to sell that land.

Kelly had previously been given permis-sion to build two four-unit apartment buildings on the land.

He now wants to sell the land and the would-be purchaser wants to build the five-unit building.

Trustee Ed Kosiorowski objected to Kelly asking for a change when the plan for two units had been approved and the ordinance passed. So did Atty. Ken Clark.

But, despite the "over abundance of apartments in Antioch," based on the fact that the land is already zoned R5, and because Kelly said that someone at the village hall had told he and the prospective buyer that it would be alright to build the five-unit building, the board OK'ed the re-

The approval also came to prevent Kelly from losing the land sale.

Free counseling?

LINDENHURST—The Lindenhurst Village Board is being faced with the decision of whether to accept an offer of free youth and family counseling for Lindenhurst residents from a substanceabuse counseling specialist who may make referrals to his private practice. The counselor, Bryan Philbin who is a resident of Lindenhurst, offered to work two hours a week at the Lindenhurst Police Dept. making himself available to children and their families seeking counseling. Philbin said each family or individual could receive two to 2.5 hours of free counseling from him before they would be referred to either his Antioch office at the Antioch Youth and Assessment Ctr., a substance abuse treatment program at one of the area hospitals or another program Philbin believes would be beneficial to them. Although Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch and members of the village board thanked Philbin for an offer they termed, "generous," they said they would have to look further into the program that the mayor believed could lend Lindenhurst's name to a private business venture. Ratch formed a sub-committee that includes Trustee Brian Smith, an attorney, to study the situation.

Back to normal

LAKE VILLA-The Lake Villa Library Board and staff are rejoicing this week after the successful passage of a .39 percent tax rate increase that will allow the them to reinstate Tuesday and Saturday hours, bring back the 12.5 percent of staffers that have been cut and increase the book budget that was cut by 50 percent. Library Board President George Raczkiewicz said it should be a month to six weeks before the operation is back to normal because staff has to be re-hired before the library hours can increase. He also said knowing that extra tax dollars are coming in will allow the board to borrow from other funds in the budget. Tuesday's election was the second one for the referendum which passed by an overwhelming 61.68 percent.

member Republican screening committee explaining their lack of attendance at Nov. 4 meeting. That person was F.T. "Mike" Graham, incumbent Dist. 5 County Board member and former supervisor of Libertyville Twp.

"I was not invited in 1986 and respectively decline for three reasons," his letter read.

"First, I have not determined that I will be a candidate the development industry will expend huge sums of money endorsing pro-development candidates and direct those funds against any pro-open space candidates.

"Second, this will be only a two-year term due to reapportionment. Depending on drawing in 1992, it could result in candidate running every two years for the next six years.

"Third, the screening committee includes Shawn Depke (Warren Twp GOP chairman), Bill Peterson (Vernon Twp. GOP chairman), Pat Uriarte (Libertyville Twp. chairman) and Robert Neal (county GOP party chairman). This indicates almost predetermined endorsements."

Crossing cure

ANTIOCH - The Antioch Village Board has taken steps to improve the safety factor at the milroad crossing on Rtc. 173 after three Antioch High School students were killed there when their car was struck by a Wis. Central Railroad train last month. The Wis. Central Railroad has installed larger 12-inch flashing lights at the site and the III. Dept. of Transportation is installing rumble strips in the highway both on the east and west approaches to the crossing. Plans are for IDOT to also put crossing gates at the site. A public hearing on the crossing gate installation will be held at the Antioch Village Hall, at 1 p.m., on Tuesday, Nov. 28.

Residents upset

LIBERTYVILLE—Business-subsidized bus service to a growing industrial area along Rtc. 45 between this community and Mundelein will be recommended to the village board by the Plan Commission. Otherwise, special education services are provided through the Special Education Dist.of Lake County, known as SEDOL. Inquiries about services may be made to a student's counselor, who will conduct a preliminary evaluation which includes a review of records with staff and other relevant resources. The counselor and the parents will maintain close contact with each other on the progress of the review. If special education services are warranted, a referral for special education evaluation will be prepared by the counselor for the director of pupil personnel services, who will offer educational assistance appropriate to the student's needs and acceptable to the parent(s), or official refer the case for a case study evaluation. Every effort is made to ensure that students at ACHS are educated in the least restrictive environment.

'Me, Myself and Mom' new parks program

Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. of the Village of Antioch is on the move again!

Beginning on Jan. 5, 1990 at 9:30 a.m., Antioch Parks and Recreation will be sponsoring a program for mothers and children called "Me, Myself and Mom!"

This particular program will run for six weeks and only cost $20 for the six week session. The class will meet every Friday at 9:30 - 11 a.m.

The purpose of this program is to help two and three year old children get involved in outside activities. They will be able to participate in group activities with other moms and their children.

The two and three year olds will be at "school" for only an hour and a half - yet to these young ones this hour and a half can mean the world. It is also important because mom stays with the.

Songs, nursery rhymes, story time, and games are just a few things mom and child will share together. Mom will participate in the class at least for half hour. (This way any and all songs can be practiced at home).

Not only does this class help the young ones, it also helps mom. While the little ones play together, mothers will be able to discuss and watch how their child interacts. Coffee will be provided every morning. Dads are also invited to take part in the class.

For further detail or sign-up call the parks and recreation office at (312)395-2160. Call soon as class is expected to fill

The Antioch Upper Grade School Apaches closed out a great season by beating previously unbeaten Lake Zurich. The victory gave Antioch a record of 9-1 and a tie for the conference championship.

Surprisingly, the Apaches had a starting lineup of five eighth graders, four seventh graders and four sixth graders. It makes next year look quite promising.

The Apaches would like to thank Coach Hill for her help during the season, along with the staff, parents and students for all their support

1. Burning in the ball of the foot.
2. The feeling of walking on a stone or marble.
3. Numbress or tingling in the affected toes.

Steinke's patience helps tots on Halloween trip

by LIZ SCHMEHL (708)395-5380

Monday, Oct. 30, and Tuesday, Oct. 31, were two extra special and extra busy days for all of the little Camp Crayon students. On these particular dates each session of the little preschoolers celebrated Halloween with a special field trip/party.

Dressed as ghosts, ballerinas, batmen, racecar drivers, scarecrows, clowns, mice, witches, Cinderellas, pirates, etc., they were escorted around town in order to trick or treat. The candy stops included the village hall, the police department, the chamber of commerce, the township hall, the senior center, the fire department and McDonald's

Once back in the classroom, all of the little ghosts and goblins passed out their own special treats to each other, listened to Halloween music and enjoyed a tasty treat and juice.

The Camp Crayon teachers, Marie Brausam, Julie Groh, Ardeen Harris, Pat Santiemmo and the substitute extra teacher Liz Schmehl would like to say thank you to the courteous bus driver from Antioch Grade School Dist. 34. Fred Steinke was very helpful and extremely patient as the little ones struggled on and off the bus at each candy stop. His pleasant personality definitely added to the pleasure of the two special days. Thanks, Fred, for putting up with us. We could not have done it without you!

'Athlete of the Week'

Congratulations are in order to Deanna Olenick, a junior at ACHS. Deanna was recently chosen as Athlete of the Week for her special contributions to the ACHS girls' varsity volleyball team. On the heels of this special honor, Deanna was taken ill, and her family and friends would like to extend a special get well wish to her.

Sorry you are under the weather, Deanna. Just follow the doctor's orders and enjoy Mom's TLC and you will soon be feeling "fit as a fiddle" again. I know you are feeling down, however, look on the bright sideyour illness will be behind you in time for that important event in July.

Pledmont Homecoming Congratulations to Leslie Bennett, a former Antioch area resident, for being chosen as part of the homecoming court at Piedmont College in Georgia.

Emmons bake sale

The fourth and fifth grade students of Emmons Grade School recently conducted a bake sale. The proceeds from the bake sale were for the earthquake victims in California. The money the students earned was sent to the San Francisco School Dist. to be used as needed.

After the sale, any leftover goodies on hand were donated to the PADS organization for the homeless in Antioch. Thanks, kids, for being so receptive are caring to the needs of others. I'd say many of our youths of today are definitely headed in the right direction.

Fleshmans entertain John and Joanne Fleshman of Antioch had the pleasure of entertaining some out of town guests. Eileen Lach (Joanne's mom) of Lincoln; Betty Hughes (Joanne's aunt) of Springfield; and Mary Louise Woloshyn (Joanne's aunt) also from Springfield, truly enjoyed their visit to the Antioch area. While here, they visited the Mitchell Domes in Milwaukee and went on a shopping spree to the Kenosha Outlet Mall. Joanne tells me on their next visit they definitely want to "hit the mall again!" Bridge repair concerns I received several calls from area residents concerned about the delayed construction on the Grass Lake Rd. Bridge, located about one mile west of Rte: and up the back way onto 59. The concern of all the callers was the safety factor of the lengthy construction work and why there hasn't been any recent progress on the construction the past five-six weeks.

As I was typing the column, I was interrupted by a phone call. The call happened to be from Mark Grass Lake Rd.

It would take a little longer, but he wants to assure everyone their roads will be plowed. Mark says any time you have a question or concern about the township roads, or other roads, just call him at (708)395-2070 and he will help you with your confrom Chicago. Welcome to the Antioch area!

Remember the play/ movie "Grease?" Recently, Tony Santiemo of Antioch auditioned for a special nighttime performance of the play.

Tony went to Chicago for a business/pleasure trip. After the business meeting, he and his two associates were walking down a gangway in the direction of their parked car. John Allar was in the lead, Tony in the middle, and Bruce Charvat was bringing up the rear.

The three men were chitchatting over the events of the evening and suddenly Tony disappeared right before their eyes. The other two men turned their flashlights into Tony's direction and discovered him "knee deep" into a huge "grease" pit located behind a local restaurant

Once they realized Tony was not injured, only slippery, the three men began to laugh. His wife, Pat, was asleep when he arrived home but woke up when she heard him enter the house. She was taken back by his "greasy" appearance, and when he began to blurt

Yep, someday I am going to write a book about the funny mishaps in our daily lives.

Emmons kindergarten Dawn Vogel, the kindergarten teacher at Emmons School, is enjoying the 21 little people entrusted to her each day. Everything she teaches them is met with enthusiasm and excitement. They are discovering that putting things in the right order can lead to making chocolate pudding or crackers and peanut butter.

They also enjoy spending time in the reading, math and listening centers with the help of parent volunteers. Playing is an important part of their day, as they learn to interact with each other. They especially enjoy forming their sharing circle as they take turns discussing things of importance to them.

Soon the Halloween jacko-lanterns will be replaced by turkeys, but whatever decorations mark the season, Vogel says it will be the students that light up her classroom. It is fantastic to hear about a teacher with such a "positive" attitude concerning her students. The kindergartners are Emmons are obviously getting their education started on the right footl

Well, that's it for this week, be what it may! Hope you all had fun trick or treating. The Lizard certainly did, and, boy, did I ever get a lot of Butterfingers.

Ring, the Antioch Twp. Hwy. Comm. He wanted me to share the following information with all those concerned about the bridge construction. First of all, Lake County Div. of Transportation has jurisdiction over Grass Lake Rd. and, therefore, Grass Lake Rd. Bridge.

If you have any questions or concerns, you may contact Ken Such at (708)395-4188 or Eric Boland (708)362-2717.

Mark did check on a completion date for the construction and barring any unforeseen problems or bad weather the tentative completion date for the bridge work is the third week in January.

Mark also found out the reason for the delay is that the construction work first calls for test drive bridge supports to see what is definitely needed.

The parts must then be ordered, and it takes about two to four weeks for delivery of the supports. They are on the way.

Mark also said people were wondering if the snow plows could get through. Mark feels there will be no problem, in fact there have already been some test runs with the plows. However, if a problem arises, the plows would come in to the Grass Lake area via Rtc. 173. Wilmot Rd., State Line,

Enhanced 911 wins approval from all

Lake County residents greeted the enhanced 911 telephone emergency response system proposal with open arms Nov. 7, as each and every 911 question on the ballot was approved by the voters.

Only 19 percent of the registered voters chose to voice their opinion on the matter on election day, but Lake County Clerk Linda Hess reports that absentee voting increased 40 percent from the last similar election four years ago.

Lake County passed its enhanced 911 system decisively with a 11,810-5,534 victory margin. Lake County Sheriff Clint Grinnell was pushing for the enhanced version of 911 for all those municipalities who chose to go with the county's system rather than their own.

But that all seems relevant because all communities pressing for their own control over an enhanced 911 system also proved to be successful. The total vote count of all those municipalities seeking a local 911 system was 13,904 to 4,346.

The following is a run-down of how each municipality voted on the issue:

Bannockburn - 65 yes, 7 no Fox Lake - 425 yes, 263 no Grayslake - 835 yes, 281 no Gurnee - 1,669 yes, 461 no Hainesville - 8 yes, 2 no Highwood - 221 yes, 34 no Libertyville - 1,476 yes, 265 no Lincolnshire - 490 yes, 98 no North Chicago - 398 yes, 239 no

Alumni Mass

The Annual Alumni Memorial Mass at Carmel High School will be held on Sunday, Nov. 12 at 11:30 a.m. Park City - 196 yes, 41 no Round Lake - 306 yes, 61 no Round Lake Beach - 1,117 yes, 251 no Round Lake Heights - 90 yes, 20 no Round Lake Park - 335 yes, 83 no Waukegan - 3,503 yes, 1,558 no Vernon Hills - 1,452 yes, 281 no Winthrop Harbor - 455 yes, 107 no Zion - 863 yes, 294 no

Enhanced 911 is a designated nationwide emergency telephone number for police, fire and emergency medical services. The enhanced service is based on address and automatically provides the caller's telephone number and address on the dispatcher's computer screen.

Each municipality will assess its residents a certain fee per month (for each telephone line) that will be collected by the telephone company along with their monthly bill.

Most communities are assessing a 75cent surcharge, as is the county for those towns that did not pass a local 911 system, although some are assessing fees as high as $1.50 per month.

The local surcharge cannot be increased without voter approval, but can be reduced by a local governing board.

The cost to install the system is estimated at $150,000.

Now it's 708 land

Welcome to the land of 708. Good old 312 served well for a long time, but Ma Bell dictated otherwise. Now we'll have to get used to a new area code, another of life's grating upheavals, like a new street address or a different license plate number. Why wasn't a new area code mandated for Chicago and let the suburbs keep 312? Are we second class citizens? Actually, the citizenery is taking to the new A.C. pretty much in stride. Wait until the Bell system starts charging a toll to call the city. You say it's not supposed to work that way? Just wait.

New neighbor coming

We're not Silicone Valley yet, but the announcement that Motorola Corp, will be establishing home in central Lake County definitely stamps our locality as high tech. This is not to demean the many small concerns in the county already involved in production or design of technically advanced equipment, But with arrival of a high profile player like Motorola, the world definitely is acquainted with your doorstep.

Officials of Libertyville and Grayslake where Motorola will establish cellular telephone manufacturing centers received inklings a few weeks ago that the electronics giant was serious about establishing a foothold in this locality. But otherwise, planning and incentives were worked out at the highest levels to clinch the deal.

Motorola will lease with option to purchase the long-shuttered 48,000 square foot Midwest Transformer plant in Grayslake where from 350 to 500 employes will be located. On an 80-acre site between Grayslake and Mundelein on Rtc. 45—within the village limits of Libertyville—Motorola will build a state of the art plant designed to maintain its world-wide leadership in cellular phones. All in all, the Motorola presence is expected to mean the creation of more than 3,000 jobs in this locality.

Let crosses shine

Lighted crosses should be shining atop Wauconda water towers during the holiday season, despite the protestations of gadfly atheist Robert L. Sherman. Wauconda officials are determined not to be swayed by Sherman's threats or intimidations, but they are being careful, nonetheless, opting for more study before a final decision Nov. 21.

Composting eliminates leaf-burning dangers

by CHRIS GEISELHART

Fall is a favorite time of year for many people. Skies are clear and blue, days are crisp and invigorating, and the leaf colors are magnificent.

Many people who enjoy the aroma of burning leaves in the fall and the neighborly "visiting" which can occur during such annual rituals, or who merely wish to get rid of that big pile of leaves before winter may not realize the significant effects of this burning can cause for people and for the environment.

For those with allergies, asthma, bronchitis, or heart disease, it can be a time of dread because their health problems can be greatly aggravated by the smoke from leaf burning. Coughing, wheezing, constriction of the bronchial tubes, heart strain and angina pain may result. Very young children and the chronically ill may have an increased danger of respiratory illness.

Consider this: the Illinois Dept. of Energy and Natural Resources states that burning leaves releases cancer-causing compounds into the air, plus carbon monoxide and irritating and toxic organic compounds such as ketones and aldehydes. Phosphorous is also released-that substance which has helped bring about the eutrophication of our lakes.

Composting is a low-impact method of recycling leaves and grass elippings which is good for the environment. Many

The Motorola decision is exciting news. Outside of the inducements from the state, Motorola selected its mid-county location on the basis of attributes that already exist. Local governments didn't have to "give anything away." That's the way it should be, in our opinion. We're looking forward to having Motorola as a neighbor.

Quit to live

If there's a smoker in your home or at your work place, ask them to give up smoking for a day to celebrate the 13th annual Great American Smokeout on Thursday, Nov. 16. Ask them to give it a shot.

The American Cancer Society, sponsor of the event, stresses the upbeat side of quitting smoking in promoting the Smokeout. But how can the morbid side be ignored? According to Cancer Society statistics, every year 390,000 Americans die from smoking-related illnesses—more than die from AIDS, crack, cocaine, heroin, alcohol, fire, murder and car accidents combined. The strange part is that most of the smokers are fully aware of how deadly eigarettes are.

We think it is important that Sherman had an opportunity to voice his opinions.

In doing so, he aroused less than a

Lincoln aided birth of navy as known today

by BILL SCHROEDER

Saturday, Nov. 11, is a red letter day for the U.S. Navy and Illinois.

The Navy's newest aircraft carrier, the USS Abraham Lincoln, will be commissioned at 11 a.m. at Norfolk, Va. A special committee has been whooping it up for a year. A lot of state bigwigs, including Gov. James Thompson, will be on hand, plus a lot of "littlewigs" like folks who purchased a commemorative set of Lincoln White House china to help provide funding for the committee.

One hundred fifty members of the Lincoln's first crew will be from Illinois, including the executive officer, Capt. Robert L. "Pete" Peterson, who hails from nearby Harvard in McHenry County. Peterson is a decorated naval aviator. Adding to the local touch is the fact that a number of the sailors took boot training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

The commissioning ceremonies have given naval historians an opportunity to recount a side of President Lincoln that is not taught in grade school and high school history courses. Lincoln was intensely interested in the Navy and had rare insight into the role of naval warfare. He is credited with establishing the place of the Navy in American armed forces,

The committee's work is not all ceremonial and social. The ship's library will be given 400 volumes on the life and times of Abraham Lincoln, there will be the Lincoln Room on board the 6,000-personnel ship, 50 Lincoln portraits, a Lincoln bust will be displayed and extra athletic equipment be provided as the result of committee efforts.

The Lincoln's skipper, Capt. William Hayden, expressed heartfelt thanks for the support of the citizens of Illinois.

SPEECHLESS—Suzi Metzler literally was speechless at the outpouring of thanks and appreciation at a party in her honor for her years of service as secretary of the Lake County Republican Federation. Suzi was overcome with a bout of laryngitis, the first in her life, and could only smile and shake hands. One hundred seventy-five persons and dozens more sent congratulatory cards prepared for the occasion that were attached to a tree.

GAME DINNER-Sportsmen and their friends from near and far are looking forward to the annual wild game dinner staged by the Canvasback Rod and Gun Club. This year's event will be Tuesday, Nov. 14, at Frigate Restaurant and Lounge, Ingleside. Chief Joe Sabatini is promising a Five Star menu including venison, antelope, bear, goose, pheasant, salmon and fresh rye bread. The gettogether attracts so many political types that a county daily some years ago tried to read sinister implications into the dinner, No luck. The only deviation from good food and good fellowship will be a professional master of ceremonies to keep things moving at a lively pace.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Mom and pop are being urged by the younger generation to join the bird feeding fraternity. Lisa and Jill point out that it's both fun and thoughtful to take care of our feathered friends. I always thought that cats don't co-exist with bird feeders. Not so, the girls insist—when you have house cats. So our choice is lock up the ebony queen or let the birds go hungry.

Hungry still hungry

$38,000 for a township supervisor who is "overseer of the poor," $30,000 for an aide to the "overseer of the poor," and $30,000 paid to Dorothy Connors for legal fees. Yet, not a farthing is given to the hungry. Mr. Swank has a strange set of priorities. His political friends are well rewarded while the poor are told to beg from the township churches for handouts. $98,000 would pay for a lot of food and other necessities for the needy.

Fighting for the unborn

I would like to commend State Rep. Penny Pullen for her recent battle for the rights of the unborn. She reminds me of William Wilberforce, the member of the British Parliament who fought unyieldingly for more than 30 years for the abolition of slavery. Wilberforce year after year despite a great deal of opposition, introduced one bill after another to end the horrible atrocities of the slave trade and to restore full human rights to slaves who had been stolen from their homes and transported to satisfy human erect.

In much the same way, Penny Pullen has year after year, session after session, introduced legislation to bring full rights to unborn children. The abortion trade is also fueled by human greed, the desire to be comfortable without any "inconveniences" that a surprise pregnancy might cause. It is encouraging that she doesn't bend with every wind of opinion polls.

Trustees sneaky, underhanded Editor:

Once again Mayor Marvin E. Smith and Grayslake village trustees are working against the public interest of Grayslake residents and all of Lake County. This time, the mayor and his trustees chose to have a "midnight" annexation--make that "Friday morning" annexation (anyone who attends Grayslake's annexation meetings knows they are held in the evening due to Mayor Smith's full-time position at Grayslake High School).

Grayslake chose to annex to the village 65 acres of land located east of Rte, 45 and south of Rte. 120 at the exact same hour that the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. was designating 405 acres known as the Almond Rd, site which included the same 65 acres being annexed to Grayslake. The Almond Rd, acquisition is the cornerstone of a much bigger plan of providing 2,500 acres of open space to the public connecting the whole county by a trail system. Obviously, Grayslake cares nothing for providing open space to generations to come.

Grayslake was well aware of the Forest Preserve Dist.'s wish to make this acquisition since it has been well publicized since March. In a letter on (Continued on Page 11) controlled growth to the Lakeland Press on June 2, 1989, Mayor Smith and his trustees stated "An important part of this program is the encouragement of Forest Preserve acquisitions in our area." The letter goes on to state that meetings be open to the public and that already occupied homes be omitted in acquisitions.

In the Almond Rd. acquisition, all meetings have been open and publicized and en homesites were included. The ve met all Grayslake's criteria yet in a very unpublicized meeting (one notice on the door of the village hall) Grayslake is attempting to keep prime forest preserve property away from the public.

Just as they drove up the price of the southeast corner of Rtes. 45 and 120 when they annexed and rezoned it to commercial property knowing full well that IDOT had to acquire it for the expansion of 420, Grayslake would not listen to facts and figures. They annexed this corner the day before the election.

Isn't it interesting that IDOT is already negotiating with property owner Victor Cacciatore for this corner. We the taxpayers will pay a much higher price when IDOT acquired this land as we will pay for legal costs when the Forest Preserve fights with Grayslake to complete the important Almond Rd. Forest Preserve.

I feel that Grayslake is sneaky and underhanded in their "midnight" annexation and the property owners will gain little by joining Grayslake with the exception of high municipal taxes when they could be part of a beautiful Forest Preserve system that will benefit all.

Numbers don't add up

I attended the Gurnee village board meeting on Oct. 30 at listened to with their numbers and numbers I have on school costs, and can only wonder how they arrived at their conclusions. They plan to build 1294 units and only generate 561 students for the schools. I wonder if this was just the number of students for the first year or was a constant figure? If this is constant, then they are assuming that their targeted market, young first time buyers, will average .43 children per household!

They also state that in four years this development will generate $1.5 million in annual revenues for the debt-ridden Woodland schools. This is supposed to basically meet the annual costs of their supposed 561 students. There was no attempt to explain who pays the cost of educating any students from this development for the next four years. Furthermore the 1987-88 costs for each student at Woodland was $2,655. That cost times the number of students equals a total expense of $1,489,455. The flaw is obvious. The cost of educating students in '87-'88 is likely to be far less than the cost between 1989 and 1993.

This developer asks us to be impressed with an offer to donate $579,000 up front to Woodland schools. This will cover less than one-sixth of the costs to build classrooms and costs of education for these students prior to the receipt of tax revenues. I base my figures on current architectural estimates for new buildings (allowing for possible total donation of $3,000,000 from all builders in Dist. 50). and on Lexington's own estimate of $1,500,000 annual educational expenses, with an average of two years between enrollment and receipt of tax revenues.

No mention was made of the impact to the high school. Surely, some students entering Woodland will eventually enter the high school.

Com Ed cites sharing as unfair to customers

by RONALD F. CRAWFORD

Imagine finishing a meal in a restaurant and being handed two checks, yours and a stranger's. Or being told to pay two tax bills, one for yourself and one for your neighbor. Chances are you'd be a bit

These examples might be slightly exaggerated, but a requirement that northern Illinois electricity customers pay double for air pollution control measures is a very real possibility, and local consumers have every right to be upset.

Under one version of proposed federal acid rain legislation that stands a good chance of passage, Commonwealth Edison customers who have helped pay to clean the air in their communities now would be forced to do the same for other electricity consumers who haven't been charged a dime to reduce emissions from the power plants that serve them. This scheme is being advanced under the innocuous-sounding label of "cost sharing."

As long ago as 1970, Edison stopped using high sulfur coal at all but one of its fossil-fucled generating stations (located outside of the company's service territory) and switched to low sulfur coal. This cleaner fuel is brought by train from Montana and Wyoming at substantially greater cost than that associated with the use of local coal, but the switch has represented the most economical way of making the air quality improvements that the public and their representatives in Washington have demanded.

During this same period of time, Edison built a number of non-polluting nuclear generating stations to meet the future needs of its customers. Today, approximately 80% of the electricity generated in northern Illinois is produced without one wisp of smoke, and together, uranium and low sulfur coal account for about 95% of Edison's electrical generation. As a result, Edison, within its territory, already is in compliance with the requirements of President's Bush's proposed acid rain legislation.

While Edison was helping to clear the air through its use of uranium and low sulfur coal, most other utilities in the Midwest were content to continue burning high-sulfur local fuels in older power plants. This strategy enabled the others to enjoy somewhat lower costs. But it did nothing to solve the acid rain problem, and gave critics the opportunity to draw unfavorable rate comparisons with Commonwealth Edison.

Now, with the anticipated passage of acid rain legislation, the free ride soon will be over. Utilities will be required to spend billions for emission control equipment; costs that will be passed on to customers. The trouble is, some want the staggering costs to be shared by all electric utility customers, including those who have been paying their fair share for Edison customer's should strongly protest this contemplated "double dip" to their representatives in Congress.

Editor's note: Ronald Crawford is district manager of Commonwealth Edison's division headquartered in Waukegan.

Home builders

Guy and Patty Lolmaugh, owners of Modern Home Builders of Lindenhurst, have built 700 homes in Lake County since 1972. Guy is the third generation of his family continuing the business started in Waukegan by his grandfather, Wayman, in post-World War II and taken over by his father, Gerald, and uncle, Jack. The Lolmaughs say their future contains plans of building in north central Lake County and an early retirement. Above, Guy and Patty review drawings for a new subdivision.—Photo by Kim Bolton.

Lolmaugh says:

Building homes is in the family's blood

by KIM BOLTON
Lakeland Newspapers

The third generation of Lolmaughs developing homes in Lake County, Guy Lolmaugh says building houses is in his family's blood.

Together, Guy, 39, and his wife, Patty, 34, run the business they call Modern Home Builders out of a model home in the Americana Heights subdivision in Lindenhurst. They have brought the total number of homes built by the family company in Lake County up to more than 2.000.

Modern Home Builders was originally begun as Hometown Construction in the post-World War II era by Guy's grandfather, Wayman Lolmaugh. Wayman entered the growing housing market created by GIs returning home from the war and built affordable homes for them in Waykegan Immediately after their marriage in 1972, the Lolmaughs took over the home building business from Guy's dad, Gerald, and his uncle, Jack. They joke that working together was their way of celebrating their honeymoon because business prevented them from taking a more traditional one.

Since 1972, the Lolmaughs, who live with their five children on Lake Villa's Deep Lake in a home designed by Waukegan architect, David Ladehoff, have built 700 homes. Two-hundred of them are in Lindenhurst.

Working together for 17 years, Guy and Patty say managing their business has worked out well since they learned not to get involved in each others' jobs, and not to take it home with them.

"You stay in your comer and I'll stay in mine," Guy jokes.

Patty's position is that of general manager. Her job includes keeping the office running smoothly on a day-to-day basis and handling customers and closings. last week is a subdivision for the property at the junction of Grass Lake and Beck Rds, called Homes of Lake Potomac. It includes not only upscale homes, but a commercial convenience center and duplexes.

"I like to diversify my activities," Guy said, adding that he'll build all types of housing with the exception of the most wide span of interests and is not solely dependent on one business.

"Generally, I like the area and the way it's coming," Guy said. He has concentrated building in

He has concentrated building in Lindenhurst because: "I think Lindenhurst is an area that has extreme potential for growth. It's still an affordable, familyoriented community."

In addition, Guy says he and Patty like Lindenhurst's administration.

"I believe that the administration is doing a pretty good job out here in directing the growth of the community where it will best serve the needs of the residents. I'm pretty excited to be a part of that "Guy said that," Guy said.

The Lolmaughs have proven their willingness to work with the village and the people of Lindenhurst by changing plans that are unacceptable to neighbors, such as the original blue prints for Homes of Lake Potomac that called for a combination of upscale homes and townhomes along the lake front.

"We've built more than 200 homes in this area and aren't out to upset any residents "Guy said residents," Guy said.

When asked what his secret to success is, Guy says he doesn't have one and doesn't consider himself a success.

"I haven't really gotten to the point where I consider myself a success," Guy said, adding that his idea of success is to have a different Rolls Royce for each day of the week and a bank account that matches Donald Trump's.

But if he'd have to give away the secret, (Continued on page 15)

"Perseverance is my secret to what success I have. You can't be a quitter. You have to set goals and go for them. You also have to understand nothing is for nothing. Hard work will get you success, not the lottery."—Guy Lolmaugh, owner, Modern Home Builders.

Guy says he handles all initial sales contacts, oversees the construction superintendent and construction activity of about 100 people, including nearly 30 Modern Home Builder employees, and makes plans for the future of Modern Home Builders—including purchasing land for new subdivisions and projects.

"I make sure we have a place to go tomorrow," Guy says.

Tomorrow Guy is not only planning to build homes for Lake Countians, but business sites as well. One of those new projects Guy has in the planning stages is a 10,000-square-foot office building in Lindenhurst in which he plans to occupy 2,000 square feet and lease the remainder.

Another project which he presented to the Lindenhurst Planning Commission luxurious homes which are flooding parts of the Lake County market.

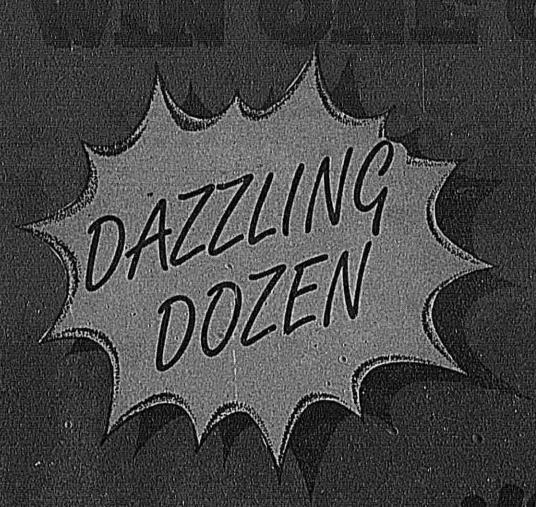

Homes of Lake Potomac is the third phase of Lindenhurst's Americana Heights subdivision, located north of Grass Lake Rd., where the Lolmaughs have built more than 200 homes.

After the recession of the early 1980s—a trying time for all developers—Guy and Patty teamed up on some of their projects with Terry Denoma of Century 21 Leech and Associates.

"Three heads are better than one," Guy says.

According to Guy, Modern Home Bullders has chosen Lindenhurst, Lake Villa and Grayslake as its target area because, being half-way between Milwaukee and Chicago, it supports a

"Perseverance is my secret to what success I have. You can't be a quitter. You have to set goals and go for them. You also have to understand nothing is for nothing. Hard work will get you success, not the lottery," Guy said.

Tom Gibson, Modern Home Builder's construction superintendent for the past 15 years, is the second reason Guy gives for the company's success.

"Delegation is very important. You need the right people out there doing their job," Guy said.

Tom and Guy hold weekly foremen meetings to discuss ways of preventing

"We're always concerned about time, but quality comes up just as much at our meetings," Guy said. Guy also advises that keeping an eye on what the competition is doing and being involved in the community is important to him. To accomplish this, he reads industry publications, plays golf with other area developers, is a sponsor to Lindenfest and a member of the Lindenhurst Chamber of Commerce.

Although Modern Home Builders does have some and has opened Wildwood Car Wash as a side investment, Guy says he'll be concentrating his home building efforts in north central Lake County.

The Lolmaughs, who currently build an average of 50 homes a year, employ 32 full-time people and have approximately 100 people working on their homes at one time, say their future plans include building more homes per year, which is good news county's for the employment rate.

"We're good for the community. We create jobs," Guy said.

Want to avoid airport hassles and be treated like a VIP? Join an airline club!

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Having to sit in a middle seat for four hours and eat airline food is bad enough. But when you must precede this experience with standing in long checkin lines, sitting in noisy airport "lounges" and trying to balance a cup of coffee and write some post cards home at the same time, you're already uptight before getting on the plane.

Wouldn't it be great to open a door and walk into a peaceful, quiet living room with a television, comfortable couches, and complimentary coffee? No need to worry about check-in. The friendly receptionist who met you at the door will take care of that for you. She will even help you with car or hotel reservations in case your plans have changed along

You have just entered an airline club lounge.

Contrary to popular belief, these lounges ar reserved just for first class passengers. Anyone flying on that airline may use these facilities. You need only join the club.

However, this privilege does not come without a price. Membership to an airline club runs about $100 a year. Also keep in mind that not every airline has a club at every airport. The services offered by each club vary, too.

Many now offer photo-copiers, fax machines and even IBM PC computers for use by members. Most offer check cashing services. All offer complimentary non-alcoholic beverages, with alcohol available at a cost. Delta's Crown Room is the only one I'm aware of with free alcoholic beverages.

If you are a once-a-year traveler, or fly on many different airlines, the clubs may not be for you. But if you travel even once a month on the same airline, you might want to look into what your airline's club has to Families will be affected by several tax law changes when they file their 1989 federal income tax returns, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

The value of each exemption for filers and their dependents is now $2,000, up from $1,950 last year. Those supporting a son or daughter age 24 or older can claim that person as a dependent only if their gross income is below $2,000. Previously, there Anyone claiming a dependent age two or over on their 1989 return must enter that person's social security number. Previously, this requirement applied to dependents who were at least five years old. For help getting a number, call the Social Security Administration toll-free at 1-800-234-5772.

The maximum Earned

FINANCIAL FOCUS reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Since nineteen-seventy-three, currency exchange rates have been based on supply and demand. This supply-and-demand relation is largely controlled by commercial transactions, investors, speculators and governments.

U.S. investors are very concerned when the value of the dollar falls because this poses a threat of high inflation. When the U.S. dollar's value declines compared to other currencles, imports because more expensive for Americans. These high prices give U.S. companies a green light to raise Unfortunately, the opposite, a very strong dollar, is also bad news. When foreign goods are so inexpensive that imports into the United States boom and exports fizzle, it's bad for the U.S. economy. Yet, when the value of the dollar rises so high that U.S. goods are too expensive for foreign markets, foreign markets suffer.

Currency, trade and inflation are directly interrelated, and it's necessary for investors to understand each of them.

Customers get refund

Commonwealth Edison customers are due a refund of roughly $245 million, the largest rebate ever, under a court ruling won by the Citizens Utility Board (CUB) and other consumer groups.

The rebates stem from a four-year-old legal battle over how much consumers should pay for the Byron I nuclear power plant. In October 1985, the ICC approved a rate hike to pay for the plant, but CUB and other consumer groups challenged that increase in court.

In April 1986, Judge Curry sided with consumers and overturned the increase, but allowed Edison to continue collecting the higher rates while the company appealed to the state Supreme Court. The Supreme Court upheld Curry's ruling in 1987 and sent the case back to the ICC. The commission spent the last two years investigating Byron's costs and finally agreed that consumers had been overcharged.

Edison is expected to appeal the refund order. Under the court ruling, the refunds may not be stalled while the utility launches that appeal. Consumers should receive the rebates in one lump sum, as a credit on February's electric bill.

IMI program, is designed to study a select group of marinas across the country to provide valuable information on issues, trends and practices within the marina industry. IMI will issue quarterly National Marina Index reports, which will include current data on financial performance, salaries and wages, occupancy and usage rates, innovative practices and techniques and many other topics.

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: I've heard about lens implants after cataract surgery. What does this mean?

ANSWER: Over time, the transparent natural lens behind the eye's cornea becomes cloudy and must be removed to help restore vision. After surgery, the focusing function of the lens can be replaced with glasses, contact lenses or intraocular lenses which are small, plastic lenses that are surgically implanted in the eye when the cataract is removed. They act as a permanent replacement for the natural lens and lenable the patient to avoid the distortion that often accompanies cataract glasses and the difficulty that many older people have putting in and taking out contact lenses. Intraocular lenses do not eliminate a patient's need for glasses to correct other vision problems.

If you are considering having a cataract removed your ophthalmologist will help decide what type of correction is best for you.

Film Review

"The Bear," a new nature film based on the Oliver Curwood's book "Grizzly King," turns out to be one of the best flicks of the season, even though it only has two human actors and barely two paragraphs of dialogue are delivered.

has two human actors and barely two paragraphs of dialogue are delivered.

Director Jean-Jacques Annaud, no stranger to dialogueless films having done "Quest For Fire," uses his two main stars, a cub bear and a full-grown kodiak, to tell an emotional tale of animal survival against nature and man and his gun, with sensitivity.

The story of an orphaned bear cub and his relationship with a wounded kodiak is as touching as any scene from "The Champ," first or second version.

Champ, first or second version.

The kodiak's rebuff of the lonely cub and then their growing relationship has a humanistic touch that helps the audience relate to the two animals as never before.

The way the director and trainer get the two bears to emote is beyond belief.

For the film experience of a lifetime that reminds us that Mother Nature is probably one of the best writers of all, take the entire family to see this real life adventure. Give this one five out of five stars.

Critic's Choice

Dependable play at Candlelight

by TOM WITCOM Lakeland Newspapers

Someone's always searching for love in the theater. It's a dramatist's staple. And in "Sweet Charity," a simple story adapted by Neil Simon from a screenplay by Federico Fellini, Tullio Pinelli and Ennio Flaiani, the pursuit proceeds with a vengeance.

In the new production at Candlelight Dinner Playhouse in Summit, Nora Brenna, as the bubbleheaded star (Charity Hope Valentine), is out to meet the man of her dreams. Actually, she's out to mold all the men she meets into Mr. Right, even though her friends at the Fan-Dango Ballroom chide her for "running your heart like a hotel, with guys checking in and out."

The results are predictable. In fact, the play itself is formulaic.

What saves the one-time Broadway hit from a case of the humdrums are William Pullinsi's taut direction and John Sharpe's fine chorcography.

Brennan, a tattooed, fiery redhead, combines the grace of a ballerina and vigor of an athlete in the many dance routines. Unfortunately, her performance is less stunning vocally; her voice, while pleasant, lacks brassiness and show stopper depth. In "If My Friends Could See My Now," for example, it's the footwork that surpasses the singing.

The most memorable musical number, the familiar "Big Spender," is mischievously sung by Nickie (Kristie Hannum), Helen (Robin Kersey) and the alluring Fan-Dango Girls.

The most forgettable scene comes early in Act II, when Charity's new friend Oscar escorts her to the Rhythm of Life Church.

Veteran actor James Harms is first rate as Oscar, the kindly but insecure boyfriend.

"Sweet Charity" sets no new landmarks in the world of musical comedy, but it is good, dependable entertainment nonetheless.

FLOOR PLAN

Smaller homes often suffer from from the outside directly into the living area. Anything not shut behind a door is public space. The Lakin overcomes this starkness with an angled entry that creates a short front hall, and a visual transition to the interior of the

Once past the front hall closet, the view opens into a large area with living room and dining room bays. The sense of space is increased by view windows and sliding doors onto a covered back deck. In warm weather, this space can become a second dining area for casual meals. Next to the dining room is an efficient u-shaped kitchen with counters on three sides, and the luxury of a garden window above the sink, Twin skylights make the adjacent breakfast nook a sunny wake-up room from which to start

Two bedrooms lie down a side off the entry. They share the main bath, which features a double vanity, full tub, and its own linen closet. No lugging laundry around the Lakin. The washer and drier are concealed in a utility closet only a step away from the bedroom doors.

For a 1600 square-foot house, the master suite is quite spacious. Besides a vanity, walk-in closet, shower and water closet, the private bath also contains a raised oval tub. Note that the tub and shower fill the angle between the entry and front wall to avoid any wasted space in this compact home.

For a study plan of the LAKIN (208-11), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Inspired Carmel aims to knock off Dons again

by STEVE PETERSON

Lakeland Newspapers
The blaring of horns Joe Reczyk's neighbors heard Saturday afternoon were no reason to panic. "We played this game for Joe Rejczyk," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Fitzgibbons was speaking as his team celebrated a 49-12 win over Highland Park, a win sparked by a familiar name and a not-so familiar name.

The familiar name of course was running back Matt Simmons, who recovered from two first-half fumbles (one recovered by Carmel) to score three second-half touchdowns. Simmons and a potent arsenal of Carmel runners were running behind the usual CHS offensive line - with the exception of junior Joe Rowe for Rejczyk, who broke his leg two days earlier.

The win, lineup change and all, qualified Carmel for the quarterfinal round home game against East Suburban Catholic Conference rival Notre Dame Nov. 11 in the Class 5a playoffs in a 1 p.m. game. Three weeks ago, Carmel's offense continued in high gear with a 39-15 win over the tough Dons club.

"We certainly dominated the line of scrimmage," Fitzgibbons, who had the team bus driver honk the horn as it drove past Rejczyk's house in Mundelein after the win.

The ESCC coaches apparently agreed with that as they named four Carmel offensensive line standouts- Justin Kovarsky, Todd Baczek, Andy Godwin and Steve Tarzian to the all league team.

The Corsairs, winners of seven straight games, and a 9-2 record, had a game on windy day at Highland Park. their hands for the first half during the Highland Park quarterback Danny Barnett threw a 15-yard touchdown strike to Jason Sassorossi to pull the Giants to within 21-6.

But then Simmons took over.

On the second play from scrimmage for Carmel in the third quarter, the senior running back took the pitch from QB Todd Stachle, danced past a Highland Park defender and raced 69 yards for the intimidation Franklin's keys

by BRENT KILLACKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

It was do or die time for Carmel.

With just a few short minutes left in the game, Carmel was ahead of Deerfield by 14-10. A mere four points separated the difference from victory and elimination in the first round of IHSA

Deerfield now had the ball with just a few short minutes left in the game on the 31 yard line. It was fourth and seven and everyone knew that Deerfield was going to go for it.

The two teams set up on the line of scrimmage. Carmel defensive end Tony Franklin was especially pumped.

"If they get a first down or even score, it could be our last play of the year," Franklin thought.

His thoughts were interrupted as the ball was snapped. The Deerfield quarterback, Steve Roemer, took a few steps back, desperately looking for an open receiver.

Franklin struggled against the Decrfield offensive line, but eventually broke free.

He rushed toward the quarterback, and piled him into the dirt.

As a result, the Carmel Corsairs captured their first playoff win ever by defeating Deerfield 14-10.

"I went in there and sacked him, but I did it without even thinking," Franklin said. The grace of the play just happened in a bliss of excitement and

"I told myself if the play came to my side, I was going to stop them," added

The 6-4, 240 pound defensive end said his primary goal against Deerfield (or any team) was to intimidate.

"If you think in your mind that you're better than the other person in front of you and you show them, they usually falter," he said.

Intimidation causes the other team to get flustered and forces mistakes. But Franklin does not verbally intimidate the other team.

"I try to speak in action instead of words," he said. And after a good play, Franklin celebrates like everyone else with his fair share of high-fives. Franklin started playing football in eighth grade at St. Anastasia in Waukegan.

Defensive end is his primary position. "The biggest thing I enjoy about that position is the opportunity to make real big plays and sack the quarterback," said

He also got the opportunity to play linebacker during two years when he lived in Texas.

"They were big on football," Franklin said, "and I learned a lot." How does Franklin prepare for an upcoming football game?

"I'm usually nervous before every game, but I just try to put myself in a good frame of mind," he said. "I don't think of what happened last year or what happened the game before."

And several hours before the game, the entire team is treated to an all-you-caneat meal prepared by the team mothers.

"It's good-for-you meals," said Franklin. "They're really good, too." After dinner, the team goes to the Carmel Chapel.

"I usually pray and focus on what we have to do," Franklin said. The team assembles and has a 'pep-rally prayer service.

"We're not yelling or screaming in there," Franklin said. "People say whatever is on their mind at the time and gets the team pumped up for the win."

Now the team gets suited up and reports to the field.

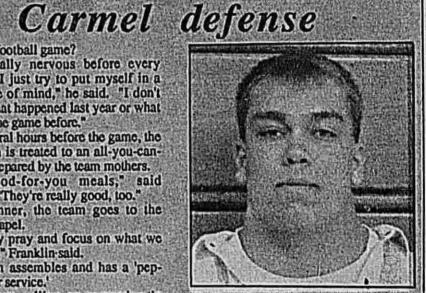

And on non-game days, the team works on conditioning.

The most dreaded part of the conditioning, but also the most rewarding is "The Hill."

In the Northwest corner of the practice field is a small hill. The players run ten to fifteen 100-yard sprints up and down. Franklin said the conditioning has "helped us a lot." "Coach Mike Fitzgibbons' has also helped me quite a bit," Franklin said.

Franklin really likes the new "Wing-T" offense brought in by offensive coordinator Bill Mack.

"I would say that's the best thing that has ever happened to Carmel's offense," Franklin said. "We haven't passed as much, but we've been real effective on the ground."

Franklin is still undecided on colleges, but he does want to play college ball. "Hopefully I'll catch someone's eye," the all-conference player said. He aspires to be a businessman.

Unsportsmanlike conduct mars some football games

By STEVE PETERSON Lakeland Newspapers

Lakeland Newspapers
The incidents themselves will not make he evening news.

Nor rank screaming headlines about portsmanship.

Yet within a span of 24 hours and another incident a week later, three games were marred by poor sportsmanship. They ranged from a Lake County Vikings football game to two junior football league contests.

The first involved the final Lake County game of the semi-pro team's first season. The team, which finished the season at 2-6, was competing against a the defending semi-pro champ Racine Raiders in Racine.

The Vikings scored at the end of the first half for a 14-6 deficit at halftime. Racine took over from there, cruising to a 33-6 romp to advance to the final round of the Midwest Football League playoffs.

At the end of the game, Racine fans continued to ride Viking Coach Al Clark's team. At one point, a Lake County linemen went into the stands to seek out the Raider backers.

"I've never seen anything like it," Coach Al Clark said.

The second incident of unsportsmanlike behavior came at a Lakeland Cardinals - Highland Park contest. Prior to the game, several Highland Park fans decided the stands at Antioch High were not comfortable enough, so they decided to stand along the sidelines. Later, a Highland Park coach argued vehemently with an official over a call.

The third incident happened during a Lakeland Cardinals - Round Lake Spartans game. Round Lake Spartans won handily 28-6 for the senior league title, but the contest should fuel an already fierce Round Lake-Grant rivalry when the two teams meet at the high school level in a few years.

he or or B All three games were blowouts - a situation which seems to invite unsportsmanlike conduct.

At any rate, the season was a good one Lake County's semi-pro team. Two early-season wins had the team's aspirations high. The team played well in close losses to Milwaukee (3-0) and Racine (33-23) in home games.

And even on this mild Saturday night, there was thoughts of upset in the air. The Vikes' Vincent DeVost scored on a fouryard run. Rob Akers, one of a handful of Sound Lake products on the Lake County roster, had an interception to set up the score.

Racine's Charlie Bliss was too much for the visitors in the second half. A 67-yard pass and an 83-yard run all spelled trouble for Lake County. One of the TD's featured a lateral.

"I felt good about the way we played in the first half," Clark said.

Clark, owner Rick Starosta and cofounder Sharon Nelson are already planning for next year. The team - led by quarterback Mike Mondy, a Michigan state grad, has camed respect in the league.

Much of the Lake County offense went down when wide receiver Kenny Allen was injured early in the year to injury. Yet, the team regrouped behind running backs DeVost, wide receiver Rodney Coleman and Michael Eldridge.

Safety Steve Borzick keyed the secondary with eight interceptions.

"We lost a lot of games by one, two and three points because of inexperience," Clark said.

Football notebook:

In the first year of picking high school games a 1-2 record in the final week of the regular season means a record of 33-13.

When Carmel's football team hosts Notre Dame Nov. 11 for the quarterfinal round game, it will mark the second time offensive coordinator Bill Mack has had a team advance that far. In 1979, when it only took one win to make the quarterfinals, the Crystal Lake Central team challenged Lake Forest but lost 26-13 in Crystal Lake. The Tigers downed Mike Kunkle's Warren team 20-13 in the first round...

The quarterback of that CLC team, Tom Pence, was watching his former mentor at work from the stands in Carmel's 49-12 domination of Highland Park Saturday. Pence, who received a scholarship to Minnesota, later set passing records at Western Illinois University...

Belvidere, the king of the wishbone offenses, added another Lake County victim to its growing list of Lake County teams it felled in playoff competition at Round Lake. The Panthers' 42-20 loss was one of the best first-round games, though. Antioch fell 26-13 in 1983, Warren 20-8 in 1985 and Lake Forest was eliminated by the Bucs 22-7 in 1987.

Looking ahead: basketball practice has begun throughout Lakeland as, with the exception of Carmel, the sound of bouncing basketballs has replaced the clash of shoulder pads. In an effort to beef up its hoops coverage, Lakeland is looking for reporters-photographers to add to its staff. For more information, call Mike Pramshafer at (312) 223-8161.

Your keys to the suburbs.

NEW AREA CODE STARTS TOMORROW.

START USING 1 + THE AREA CODE ON NOVEMBER 11.

Very soon, the suburbs will have their own area code, 708. That means you'll need to key in the appropriate area code every time you place a call between Chicago and suburbs.

708 WON'T CHANGE YOUR PHONE RATES.

All that changes is the area code. The new area code won't affect your telephone rates or seven-digit telephone numbers. In fact, calls between the city and suburbs will still be billed as local calls.

USING THE NEW AREA CODE IS EASY.

To call the suburbs from Chicago, dial 1 + 708 + the seven-digit number. To call Chicago from the suburbs, dial 1 + 312 + the seven-digit number.

And to call between suburbs within the 708 area code or to place calls within Chicago, just dial the seven-digit number. As for area code 815, that won't change at all.

So remember, 708 starts November 11. Without it, we'd run out of phone numbers. And that makes it a key part of our area's telecommunications growth.

We have realized a lot of dreams this year. Winning our regional and sectional and finishing in fifth place in the conference," Carmel Coach Jo Gerardi Gerardi was speaking moments after powerful Rolling Meadows brushed them aside 15-2, 15-6 in the Mt. Prospect supersectional.

"We were just not in the first game," Gerardi, whose team finished at 26-6, said.

The Mustangs could do no wrong in the first game. Sarah Holtz garnered the first three points before CHS earned a sideout.

Carmel may have known it was in trouble when the usually flawless Corsair serving had its woes in the first game. Carmel did manage two points off Jen Slater and Sarah Smith serves. "We felt pretty confident going in. We felt we had nothing to lose," Carmel's Stephanie Seier said.

"Rolling Meadows is a great team. I think they will finish in the top three," Gerardi said.

The Corsairs, winners of the Mundelein sectional, found some open spots in the Meadows defense in the second game to make it competitive. Carolyn Curley gave CHS an early tie at 1-1 and the Corsairs actually led at 3-2 on a Sherri Jachowski point.

A Jachowski spike gave Carmel a sideout which got the Carmel club back into contention.

But later Rolling Meadows pulled away to 7-3 and 10-4 leads.

"It would have taken a flawless effort to beat them and even then we would have had trouble," Gerardi said.

The Corsairs were hoping to do in November what the Mundelein girls softball team did in June - win a supersectional at Prospect and advance downstate.

But the 38-2 Mustangs, who knocked off defending champ Hersey in the supersectional, had other plans.

Sweet 16 finish Carmel togetherness paves way for

by STEVE PETERSON Jachowski allowed the Lakeland Newspapers

Like all good volleyball coaches, Carmel Coach Jo Gerardi was ready for a long struggle against a tough opponent in the championship match of the Mundelein sectional.

"I was prepared for a really close match. I was hoping it would only be two, but I knew Stevenson would be tough. There is a lot of potential there," Gerardi said of the match against Stevenson,

But the Corsairs would not let the coach have any worries. Powered by the strongest serving to date, the Carmel team earned a spot in the Sweet Sixteeen with a 15-11, 15-8 win over the Patriots.

As they had all regional and sectional tournament, the team enjoyed a spaghetti dinner before blowing their car horns down Hawley St. signalling they were ready for the challenge.

"We know what we have to do next year. They will be hungry because of how they feel tonight. Next year there will not be any regrets at all," Stevenson Coach Bob Schenk, whose team won advanced to the Sweet Sixteen last year, said.

The Patriots, who will return all but three seniors next year, actually had the upper hand in the first game with a 9-6 lead with senior Carolyn Ring serving.

But a run by Jennifer Burens and Sherri

Corsairs to outscore Stevenson 9-2 the rest of the way.

"At the beginning of the season, I wasn't in complete control of my serves. in just the past couple weeks, with regionals, I started to getting them lower and harder. I had my tempo down, my tosses were where I like them.

"Against Warren, I got a long streak going, and I was real confident in my serves. I just kept trying to hit them harder and harder. I try to get as much spin on it as I can to drop it short so they have a tough time returning them and they hit the floor a lot more, i don't target anywhere Jachowski. I just put as much spin as I an on it," Jachowski said.

Jachowski, like the rest of the Carmel team, went to Illinois State University volleyball camp. She practiced with the floater serve. She, like teammate Carolyn Curley, has used the jump serve:"I tried it in a game before, but I'm not as happy with it as i am with the top spin," she said. Carmel continued its dominance in the second game with a 9-0 lead.

Stevenson, 30-7, showed signs of life with Robyn Schenk, a sophomore, serving and a big rally when Elaine Oh came in to serve. The 14-3 lead was just too much to overcome, "Elaine has the softest serve on the team but she is our best percent.

"I feel the kids were really intimidated. That was the best serving team we've seen all year. I have nothing but praise for Carmel. They did an excellent job. They did what they had to do. We just could not serve receive," Schenk said.

Michele Muellner led Carmel's attack with seven kills and 13 of 15 in hits.

"Reading what the spikers are going to do and their setter will do. I've improved on my vertical jump and I keep my eyes open this year server, she serves 95 when I go to block," Muellner, a senior who also plays basketball and softball at Carmel, said.

"I like volleyball because we are such a close team," she said.

Mucliner had the pleasure of serving out the second game. "I would have waited all year if that would be my only serve," she said.

Mueliner was substituted for a time in serving due to a rotator cuff injury.

Jachowski, who has been playing volleyball since the fifth grade, had six aces.

As the team celebrated, which started with a win at Grayslake.

"I love it I knew we were going to get it after we got the tempo in the first game, satisfaction about a season can do anything. We are really playing well together," she said.

"We're a family; we are all very close," Stephanie Seier said.

Dist. 34 students rank high in state test scores

With the average statewide test score at 255, AUGS students had an average score of 363, Kudos to AUGS language arts teachers Val Taylor, Debbie Kelly, Sharon Sorlie, Jeff Smith, Rachel Hewitt, Anna Rogachuck, Wayne Ochwat and Patty Hill and of course the hard working students.

At the last regular board meeting of Dist. 34, Supt. Donald Skidmore reported that the school district had received $207,011.30 in grants that it had applied for in the last year. Grants were received for special education, the pre-school at risk program(state), ESEA Chapt. 1 (federal), reading improvement-grades one through six(state), summer school (state), gifted and remedial programs, learning objectives(state), staff development(state), gifted education(state), Chapt. 2 library materials(federal), ESEA Title II math and science(federal), drug free schools(federal) and drug intervention.

The board approved a new purchase for the Upper

As mandated, the board heard a report on social science, music and art and physical development and health curriculum plans being implemented in the district. The board had previously heard reports on the science, math and reading-writing plans.

The board discussed the 1988-1989 report cards that showed that Dist. 34 has an attendance rate of 95.3 percent, better than the state average of 93.3 percent.

Almost 77 percent of the district's third graders scored in the top two quarters.

Eighth grade students had outstanding scores in reading, math and science. In the new state reading and math tests all grade levels scored well.

Sheriff's Dept. moves to semi-automatics

The Lake County Sheriff's Dept. is slated to begin a transition period during which the uniformed deputy's duty weapon will be changed to a 9mm semiautomatic weapon, Sheriff Clint Grinnell announced.

The move is effective De. 1 and will last until Nov. 30, 1992, Grinnell said. All deputies hired after Dec. 1 will be required to have a 9mm semi-automatic pistol as a uniform weapon, he ackled.

The weapon is to conform to the standards established by the sheriff's department, Grinnell said. Before any deputy is permitted to carry the newly specified weapon, they must complete a familiarization training

"The trend in law enforcement is to semi-automatic pistols," Grinnell

"By doing this our department will be better equipped to handle potentially dangerous situations," he added.

"The transition culminates several months of research and analysis by our administration and range

officers," Grinnell concluded.

WHEN THE FEET "BURN"

A burning sensation in the feet should not be ignored. Frequently the sensation is caused by diminished circulation; it can be the result of conditions as varied as injuries, nerve disorders, dishetes and hypothymidism.

injuries, nerve disorders, diabetes, and hypothyroidism.

Diagnosis of burning feet may require laboratory tests, X-rays, a review of the medical history of the patient and family, and questions such as: Is the burning pain continuous, and is it worsened by drafts? Did you first notice the burning in your teen years? Is it worsened by warmth and relieved by cooling? Does the sensation usually occur following a hot shower?

Each of those and many other questions can narrow the evaluation and, with the tests, lead to diagnosis and treatment of the underlying cause. Anyone experiencing burning feet should consult the podiatrist promtly.

Here's how Chiropractic treats

Back Problems Persistent or recurring aches in the lower back and limbs may suggest a possible lower spinal or pelvic problem. This often requires a structural correction of the cause in order to relieve the condition. Although drugs may hide the pain temporarily, the spine and sacrolliac must be aligned to their proper position for normal function.

The doctor of chiropractic has made a special study of conditions related to the sacrolliac, spine and nervous system.
